Brenda,

Thanks for talking to me on the phone. Let me know if you guys could come up and meet with some of the church members and the pastor. Here is a summary of some of his concerns that he related to us on July 2.

1. He was very concerned about some black seeps his son found in the creek next to their house on the church property. His son found them one day while playing in the creek and came home with "black feet covered in black waste." He showed us the seeps and we have not previously seen these seeps. Fish and Wildlife expressed concerns about the seeps and said that they planned to call the national response hotline to report them.
2. He expressed concerns about black tarry waste areas found around the property. He said they bubble up in the summer months, especially under the parking lot.
3. He said that church members had complained about odors in the church building and he had concerns that there may be buried waste under the church building.
4. The church has plans to expand the church building and they have questions about that.
5. He had concerns about the Sunday school children who play in the yard behind the church.

This is just a summary. He also had questions about the superfund process, timelines for cleanup, and who is responsible.

I also attached a map and summary of samples collected on the church property during the 2009 SI.

Thanks for your help!

Amy and Todd,

I am in the office today, out on Tuesday, and working W-F. Wednesday I will be at the ware house but you can reach me on my cell (b) (6). Give me a call when you get a chance. I am including Cathy Gilmore on this email-to see if we have an RPM assigned yet. I would like for us to jointly call the pastor, and I would like to have either Dr. Phil Turner or Dr. Jon Rauscher on the phone with us.

Brenda, can you call me next week? We want to see if you could talk to the pastor at the church on the Wilcox site. He has lots of concerns and questions. Todd has his contact info and will share that with you.

Thanks!
Amy
